RESULTS OF CONTROVERSIES IDENTIFICATION EXERCISE
Conducted at the Business Luncheon of the 10th Annual AHO Convention
Monday, June 13, 1995

In a continuing effort to best meet the needs of our membership, an exercise was conducted at the Tenth Annual AHO Convention in Waltham, Massachusetts. Participants were asked to write down the three controversies surrounding the Holocaust that they were faced with or challenged by most frequently in the work.

The following is a compilation of the results from 68 respondents. The results were first reviewed to best understand and articulate the controversies. The were then organized into the nine most frequently identified controversies. The following are the nine controversies, listed from most frequently to least frequently mentioned. The numbers in parentheses ( ) indicate the number of time each occurred in the exercise.

(13) 1. What victims should be included as an integral part of the study of the Holocaust and to what extent?
   -- Jewish victims
   -- Non-Jewish victims specifically targeted
      a. Homosexuals
      b. Gypsies
      c. handicapped
   -- Non-Jewish victims not specifically targeted
      a. Poles
      b. Communists
      c. Clergy

(12) 2. Denial and Deniers
   -- do you debate?
   -- part of curriculum?
   -- literature vs. censorship
   -- dangers of deniers on the internet

(9) 3. Numbers
   How accurate must we be when using statistics in Holocaust education?

(9) 4. Unique vs. Universal
   -- where are we at presently?
   -- are the two mutually exclusive?
   -- clarification
(8) 5. Age appropriateness
   --how appropriate is Holocaust education for young students?
   --how young is too young?
   --at what age do we begin?

(8) 6. Should Holocaust education include other genocides?
   --should past genocides be compared (Armenia, etc.)?
   --should the lessons of the Holocaust be applied to the treatment of contemporary genocides and mass killings (Bosnia, Rwanda)??

(6) 7. To mandate or not to mandate. . . that is the question.

(6) 8. Intentionalism vs. Functionalism

(5) 9. Is the Holocaust a Jewish issue?
